Pair allegedly skimmed fee money

State park workers indicted for theft

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two former state employees have been indicted on charges of theft in office after allegedly pocketing campsite fees at Indian Lake State Park, state Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson said Monday.

Ferguson said the investigation and indictments were prompted by one concerned camper at the park, who complained anonymously that he suspected "someone is going south with a lot of the money."

The anonymous complaint from "a faithful camper" resulted in a year-long investigation and the criminal indictments, Ferguson revealed.

Ferguson released a lengthy special audit report of the park's Moundwood section which accused the employees of accepting campsite fees in cash, failing to give a receipt, then never reporting the campers' presence.

Douglas MacGillivray, Logan County prosecuting attorney, said indictments charging theft in office have been returned against Vester Bishop, 49, former camp area manager, and E. Kenneth Kirkpatrick, 44, his former assistant.

Kirkpatrick is awaiting trial, while Bishop is fighting extradition from Florida, MacGillivray said.

Both the prosecutor and the auditor said there was no way of knowing how much money the state lost, since there is no record of how many campers paid cash fees and simply were not recorded as ever entering the park.

However, a spot check by investigators last fall showed that registration fees were turned in to the state for only one-third of the campers who were physically counted in the campground.

The investigation was spurred in October 1974 by a handwritten, anonymous letter addressed to William Nye, then director of the Department of Natural Resources.

"We love our state park very much and want to see it prosper," the letter said, "but when you are not receiving everything that is taken in at these state parks, how are they going to continue to operate well? ...We think, and so do a lot of the campers, that someone is going south with a lot of the money."

The letterwriter, who said he was writing anonymously for fear he would be barred from the campground if his letter fell into the wrong hands, signed the letter "a faithful camper."

The letter went to Rodney E. Cooper, chief of the parks division, who sent a supervisor to physically count the number of campers in the park and compare the sum to fee receipts for the same period.

When the figures did not square, Cooper ordered two rangers from other parts of the state to begin a criminal investigation.

The two rangers, Terry Sunderhouse and Charles Huddleston, tracked down as many individual campers as possible, relying largely on "comment cards," form postcards soliciting complaints and suggestions on park operations from park users.

Wallace could have problems matching the record he made in winning a half-dozen primaries four years ago. Any time his performance falls short of his 1972 showing, it will be read as evidence he's slipping.

There are reports of dwindling blue-collar support for Wallace in parts of the South, once the base of his power. There are two Southern rivals waiting to take him on, each hoping to win national spurs by beating George Wallace in his own neighborhood.

Former North Carolina Gov. Terry Sanford tried and was trounced in his home state in 1972. He now seeks a rematch. Former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter is showing signs of headway in his first presidential race.

Patty Hearst trial slated

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Patricia Hearst, her thoughts still wrapped in silence, was ordered to stand trial Dec. 15 on bank robbery charges while her attorneys launched a fight for more time to cure the mental traumas they say she suffered while a captive of the Symbionese Liberation Army.

Insisting that Miss Hearst is incompetent to stand trial — despite a judge's ruling to the contrary — attorney Albert Johnson prepared to summon psychiatric experts to tell of their secret probings of Miss Hearst's psyche.

He also began drafting on Monday an appeal to a higher court on the question of how soon the law requires the Hearst trial to begin.

Johnson said he will subpoena three psychiatrists and one psychologist who spent some six weeks examining the heiress in her jail cell. Their sworn testimony, if admitted by the judge, would be given at a hearing set for Nov. 20.

Johnson says he is sure the four would disagree with the ruling of U.S. District Court Judge Oliver J. Carter that Miss Hearst is able to aid in her defense.

Meanwhile, at a hearing Monday, the 21-year-old Miss Hearst sat pale and mute, refusing to enter a plea to bank robbery charges. The judge entered a plea of innocent for her.

"If Miss Hearst stands mute, then the court will enter a plea of not guilty to the indictment on these charges," Carter said.

Wallace readies formal campaign

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, entering what probably will be his last presidential campaign, has a big political bankroll, a strong organization and a set of problems that surely would keep a less combative politician out of the race.

It is the fourth national campaign for Wallace, 56. It's his first from a wheelchair. He says there will not be another unless he wins the White House in 1976 and seeks re-election in 1980. That is not likely.

No political leader outside the Wallace camp suggests that he has a chance of winning the presidency. But he is as usual a force for the Democrats to reckon with, more formidable than ever given the party's big field of candidates. On a crowded presidential primary ballot, a minority often is enough to win, as Wallace showed the Democrats four years ago. His name has led the divided field in early polls.

Wallace's campaign manager, Charles S. Snider, says the governor is better organized, better financed and better prepared than before.

"We're probably in as good a position as the governor's ever been in," Snider said in a telephone interview as Wallace prepared for Wednesday's news conference in Montgomery, Ala., where he is to formally announce his candidacy. The formal announcement is almost redundant. The campaign has been going nonstop since the last one ended.

Paralyzed from the waist down, frequently in pain, facing constant questions about his health, Wallace is likely to encounter more searching scrutiny than ever before on his proposals for dealing with national problems and his formula for foreign policy.

In past national campaigns, his platform consisted largely of op-

BEAUTY AMIDST THE BROWN LEAVES — The recent summer-like weather has turned everything around. Motorcyclists who have cancelled their insurance for the winter season have contacted their agents to reinstate it, school children have paused at the municipal pool and gazed at the locked gate, Sunday picnics were scheduled once again and dads were asked to dig the bicycle out of the garage by their children. Mother Nature too was having her difficulties analyzing the situation. Flowers were blooming while their leaves were dying, as is the case with this red rose at the Virginia Otis residence, corner of East and Fayette streets, and the loveable housefly was again prompting residents to roll up newspapers during a vain search for flyswatters. Unfortunately, all these things seem to be changing for good now. There is a white crystalline substance on the grass and rooftops in the mornings and it may be time to cancel your motorcycle insurance once again.

During public meeting here

Engineers, EPA representative answer nagging sewer questions

By GEORGE MALEK

Through clouds of rhetoric and antagonism Monday night shined sincere questions on the proposed city sewer improvement project.

During a public meeting held at Eastside Elementary School, representatives of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency and the C.F. Bird and R.J. Bull, Ltd., consulting engineering firm, clarified several questions which have plagued area homeowners. A few of the questions presented, however, remain in their former state of unanswerability, at least at the present time.

Following a brief history of Washington C.H. City Council's actions leading up to the awarding of a second phase grant and opening statements by engineer Charles F. Bird and Ohio EPA representative James L. Nottingham Jr., the audience was given the opportunity to present its questions.

The meeting was adjourned when order became somewhat strained two hours later, and tempers flared during discussions afterward.

Council member Mrs. Bertha McCullough, who chaired the meeting, noted the method used by Council to approach the second phase grant.

On Dec. 13, 1973, Washington C.H. City Council approved and accepted the feasibility report submitted by Bird and Bull, Ltd., after review and study.

In February, 1974, in a memo from former city manager Dan Wolford, Council was informed that the proposal ranked 157th on a list of 800 such projects seeking federal funding.

However, additional reports, an environmental impact statement and a public hearing were noted as requirements not yet met on Nov. 12, 1974. At that time, the cost of the entire project was estimated at $23.6 million. Engineering costs for the work already done and the work required through the second phase were estimated at $862,000.

On Dec. 30, 1974, Council approved a resolution authorizing the city manager to apply for the second phase grant and to act as City Council's signatory in this regard. The action was approved by a unanimous vote of Council and signed by chairman John E. Rhoads, Mrs. McCullough said.

On Jan. 6, 1975, a public meeting was held "on the environmental assessment alternatives to the proposed water treatment system for the purpose of receiving comments and views of interested persons," according to the public notices published prior to the meeting.

The notices listed three possible resolutions to the problem, the proposed separation of the sanitary and storm sewers, the construction of satellite units at each bypass, and the collection of all storm and sanitary water for treatment.

No one objected to the proposed alternative of separating the combined sewer lines, and later that month the city was notified that funding for the second phase would be available sometime during 1975.

THE ALTERNATIVES were discussed by Bird. He said the original cost estimate on the use of high rate treatment satellites was $28,300,000 while the cost of collecting all water treatment at the main plant was $25,690,000.

In connection with each alternative, the possibility of moving the plant downstream was considered, Bird said. In order to move the facility, the present plant would have to be abandoned entirely rather than saving some $2 million worth of the existing plant. He also noted that some 14,000 feet of additional line would have to be laid to the downstream location.

He added, and Nottingham confirmed, that the EPA does not wish to encourage growth in new areas. Moving the plant downstream would make the land south of Washington C.H. a prime target for development.

Nottingham said the 75 per cent funding program is designed to assist residents within a particular area and to provide for normal growth. The purpose is not to assist developers create growth areas.

The first question from the floor was asked by William F. Stolzenburg Sr., 804 Maple St., who stated that U.S. EPA officials in Chicago, Ill., placed no time limit on acceptance of the grant. He asked why City Council did not review all alternatives in greater depth before accepting the second phase grant for the proposed project.

For Wednesday's meeting

Seven proposed bills on Council calendar

Seven pieces of legislation, including two emergency ordinances required for the continuance of the city's proposed multi-million dollar sewer improvement project, will be considered by Washington C.H. City Council members at the regular semi-monthly meeting Wednesday night.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the City Office Building.

City Manager George H. Shapter said City Council members will be considering the third reading of an emergency ordinance to enter into an agreement with C.F. Bird and R.J. Bull, Ltd., of Worthington, the city's consulting engineering firm, for services required for the proposed additions and improvements to the wastewater system.

The second reading of an emergency ordinance accepting a $600,000 federal grant for to finance the first and second phases of the proposed sewer improvement project.

Other legislation to be considered includes:

—an emergency ordinance establishing the compensation for the position of Washington C.H. Municipal Court judge;

—an ordinance authorizing improvements under the supervision of the director of the Ohio Department of Transportation;

—a resolution of appreciation for services rendered by Richard P. Kimmet as a member of the Carnegie Public Library board of trustees;

—a resolution of appreciation for services rendered by Carleton C. Johnson as a member of the Washington C.H. City Planning Commission; and —an ordinance designating Gale L. Helms and Associates, Inc., as city engineers and designating fees for the firm's engineering services.

Deaths, Funerals

Miss Margaret Mitchell

SABINA — Miss Margaret Mitchell, 66, formerly of Columbus, died at 7 a.m. Tuesday in the Eden Manor Nursing Home, Sabina.

Arrangements for services are being completed by the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina.

Mrs. Marie Gordon

JAMESTOWN — Mrs. Marie Gordon, 78, of Jamestown, died at 5:30 p.m. Monday in Heathergreen Nursing Home, Jamestown, where she had been a patient for the past seven weeks.

A native of Piqua, Mrs. Gordon had spent most of her life in Jamestown. She was the widow of Guy Gordon who preceded her in death in 1968.

She is survived by a son Ellis of New Holland, a daughter, Mrs. Betty Roegner-Jones of Piqua; a sister, Mrs. Martha Mollard of Columbus; five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the Powers Funeral Home, Jamestown. Burial will be in Jamestown Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home from 4 to 5:30 and 7 until 9 p.m. Wednesday.

AUSTIN J. GREENE—Services for Austin J. Greene, 71, of Sabina, were held at 2 p.m. Monday in the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina, with the Rev. Bill Evans, pastor of the Lees Creek United Church of Christ, officiating. Mr. Green, a retired farmer and former township trustee in Pickaway County, died Friday.

Mrs. Kathleen Walker was the organist and Mrs. Kenneth Calendine sang one hymn. Pallbearers for the burial in Centerville Cemetery, Lees Creek, were Arthur, Richard, David and Donald Green, Thomas McFadden, Chester McCloud and Robert McCabe.

City sewers discussed

responded to that question saying he had been asked by Council to seek a 90-day extension but had been notified by the EPA that a deadline had been set in mid-December.

Nottingham later addressed himself to the same question by saying that if further investigation of the alternatives was desired, the public hearing of Jan. 6 would have been the appropriate time to make the suggestion. He added that only one area resident, Tom Mark, attended that meeting.

Phil Tatman, 437 Warren Ave., asked why Washington C.H. was being singled out to bring its pollution of Paint Creek to a halt when other communities were continuing to discharge into the creek. He commented that Good Hope pollutes at a greater rate than the city of Washington C.H.

Nottingham answered by stating that other parties which pollute the creek are not being ignored. Although he did not elaborate, he implied that surrounding areas face EPA intervention in the near future.

Rhoads requested an explanation of why the proposed treatment plant was being planned to serve a population of up to 30,000 if the EPA's program was not to encourage growth.

Rhoads added that in order to meet the repayment schedule, the population being served by the system must approach the 20,000 mark.

Bird and Nottingham both stated that the plant must be designed to accommodate "normal growth." According to the engineers' population projection for Washington C.H. and the portion of Union Township to be served, there will be 20,000 persons utilizing the system.

Rhoads also wanted to know why open sewage lagoons operating well in other areas could not be used here.

Nottingham stated that the output of sewage here was too great to make such a system feasible. Bird added that of the problem here is not only inefficient treatment of sewage reaching the plant, but the large quantity of sewage dumped into the creek without getting to the facility.

Mrs. McCullough asked whether or not the separation of the combined sewer was the only type of solution which the EPA would approve.

Nottingham said, definitely not, but it appeared to be the least expensive as well as the most complete remedy.

She also asked what measures might be taken against the city if it decided not to make any improvement.

The EPA engineer apparently was not in a position to state what would happen, but only what would result. He said some other areas have received building bans which prohibited any new construction and lifting of the cities' pollution permits. In some areas, after the permit to pollute was invalidated, the area was fined for each day it violated.

Chester Hamulak, 1028 Center St., asked what prevented the federal guidelines on pollution from changing in the middle of construction or during the repayment period. Could Washington C.H. find itself facing further requirements, costing even more money, in the future, he asked.

Nottingham admitted that federal requirements could change. The EPA does not create law, he added, it simply oversees federal regulations. The problem of rapidly changing laws is a matter for which the legislators should be brought to task, he implied.

ONE INEQUITY which could result in the implementation of the new system was brought to light through another question asked by Tatman. He wanted to know how the portions of Union Township which are in the planning area would obtain sewer service.

While it was explained that they would be required to install lines connecting with the new city system and then accept the user rates, it appeared they might avoid the five-year payment period while detailed plans were being compiled and construction was underway. In other words, while city residents would be required to pay for five years without receiving benefit of the facility, county residents might be able to receive benefit as soon as they connected. whether or not some means of resolving this possible inequity can be found was not discussed.

POSSIBLE COST to the homeowner for improvement of the sewer lines on private property was also discussed.

Many homeowners have down spouts or foundation drains connected to the sanitary lines from their homes, and these combined lines would not be permitted to feed into the proposed system. William Johnson, 510 E. Paint St., asked what would be required of the homeowner to correct this problem.

Nottingham and Bird stated that the storm water drainage could not be channeled into the sanitary system. In many cases, they said, downspouts would simply be severed and allowed to splash onto the ground. Where footer (foundation) drains or excessive down spout flooding occurred, a separate line might have to be installed at the owner's expense to carry the storm and sanitary flows separately.

The engineers said determining how extensive such modifications might be or how expensive it might be for each homeowner affected could not be determined until the second phase was underway. Such determinations are part of the work assigned in preparing the detailed specifications, they said.

The cost might range from a few dollars to several hundred for each home requiring modification. It appears at present that the government will not fund this work done on the homeowner's property.

Although Bird passed off the possibility of revamping footer drains as relatively remote, Nottingham felt the problem was more serious and widespread.

Bird said Tuesday morning footer drains would be almost undetectable, would not be found on many homes, and would present little problem to the system because the water seeps slowly into the system.

Nottingham, on the other hand, said footer drains can be found by forcing an odorless smoke into the system. The smoke often rises from the ground around the foundation and many homes with gutters emptying into the system will also have footers. He added that they are relatively common in older homes in many areas, and that during the period from December to July the excessive water in the ground entering sanitary drains would present a sizable flow to the plant. Thus, he said, the EPA would require that steps be taken to determine if footer drains are in use and to eliminate them from the sanitary line.

ANOTHER CONCERN to the homeowner is the possibility of replacement of deteriorated lines. Those lines which are found to leak ground water into the system will have to be repaired. This will likely be more prominent in older homes.

Nottingham said that pressure testing would not be standard on all homes, but where there are indications of poor lines, pressure checking might be implemented. Again, how widespread this problem might be cannot yet be determined. Due to the type of soil in Fayette County the amount of seepage is expected to be lower than in similar circumstances elsewhere.

Except in the most deteriorated lines, this condition probably would not be uncovered until actual construction begins.

Two other possible responsibilities of the homeowner were discounted by both Bird and Nottingham. One is a state statute requiring all home drains to be at least six-inch pipe. The other is the common practice of having more than one home connected to a single sewer connection.

Nottingham assured the group that the pipe requirement applied only to new construction. Homes with four-inch pipes which function well will not be required to convert to six-inch, he said. The representative also stated that no EPA regulation mandates that homes have separate sewer connections. As long as the line leading from two or more homes is functioning correctly, no change in the private line would be required he said.

All basement drains would have to be connected to the sanitary system. Few homes would have to modify their sewer connections to comply with this mandate, however. Apparently, most homes are already connected in this way.

Once the basement drain feeds the sanitary line rather than a combined system, all backing up of such drains should be eliminated, Bird said.

Basement flooding which occurs through the foundation may continue, but homes in which sewage backs up through the drain to the basement would be relieved, he added.

As disorder become more prominent, questions concerning the possibility of putting the sewer issue to a popular vote was presented.

Mrs. McCullough indicated that it was not possible to have a vote on the issue. According to the past statements of Mrs. McCullough and others, Council cannot legally justify the expense of a special election for a matter which is designated by law as a responsibility of Council.

When it appeared that the meeting was getting out of hand, Mrs. McCullough adjourned the hearing and invited those who still had specific questions to ask the panel individually.

Shortly thereafter, tempers flared between Richard Allen, 401 E. Elm St., and Council member Joseph O'Brien. A brief scuffle ensued, and the meeting room emptied quickly.

Stocks post small gain

NEW YORK (A) — The stock market swung upward today, supported by signs of a continuing decline in interest rates.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up a fraction, and gainers moved out to a 4-3 lead over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

The government reported after Monday's close that yields on 13-week Treasury bills had fallen to 5.279 per cent from 5.602 at the previous sale.

And brokers noted persisting speculation on Wall Street that the Federal Reserve would soon lower its discount rate — the rate it charges on loans to its member commercial banks — from the present 6 per cent to 5%.

Fromme testimony continues

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — An elderly friend of Lynette Fromme says he showed her how to use a .45-caliber pistol in July and that she grabbed the gun from his table and left his apartment with it.

It is the same gun she pointed at President Ford in an alleged assassination attempt in September.

Miss Fromme was absent from the court Monday during the testimony about the gun by Harold Boro, 66, a retired engineering draftsman with thinning grey hair.

She had been barred from her trial for the second straight day by U.S. District Court Judge Thomas MacBride after refusing to promise to avoid courtroom disruptions.

When MacBride asked her if she would keep quiet and agree to express any objections through her court-appointed attorney, John Virga, she said, "No, I'm the only one who could put on my defense."

The day had begun when a deputy marshal carried Miss Fromme into the courthouse after she blindfolded herself and refused to walk out of jail.

Miss Fromme, 27, a disciple of convicted mass murderer Charles Manson, was ejected twice last Friday after trying to plead guilty and demanding the presence of Manson at her trial.

Bomber, missile halt SALT talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The stagnation of U.S.-Soviet nuclear arms talks results from an untested American missile and a relatively short-range Russian bomber.

According to Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, Russian inflexibility has brought to a stop the efforts to sign a new strategic arms limitation treaty — SALT — that limits offensive nuclear weapons.

He told a news conference Monday that only 10 per cent of the SALT negotiating process is incomplete, but the margin has separated the two superpowers for months. Recent developments show no improvement.

The troublesome 10 per cent focuses on the Soviet Backfire bomber and the U.S. cruise missile system. The first is a sophisticated but rather old-fashioned weapon, the other a fundamental threat to the atomic arms balance.

The question is whether and how many of these weapons should be counted in the formula worked out last year by President Ford and Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev to limit the number of offensive nuclear arms allowed each country.

Under the Vladivostok agreement, named for the Siberian city where the two men met, each side would get no more than 2,400 strategic missile launchers or airplanes.

Exactly what are these troublesome systems?

The U.S. cruise missile is essentially a small, unmanned drone airplane that flies at less than the speed of sound and can be launched from a bomber or a submarine. It's advantages include radar-evading groundhugging flight, mobile launching and pinpoint targeting.

So far, it has not been tested, but it is projected to be able to reach at least 1,500 miles from its launch point, which means a plane or submarine can fire one into any area of the Soviet Union.

The Backfire, a name attached to the plane by Western military experts, is the most sophisticated bomber ever developed by the Russians. It flies faster than sound, can carry nuclear weapons and air-to-ground missiles, has swing wings and is highly rated by U.S. military analysts.

Its range is 2,300 miles, which means it cannot reach the continental United States and return without refueling. It's nearest American equivalent is the F111, an intermediate-range bomber in service for several years.

In fact, that similarity exemplifies the dispute. In demanding that the SALT limit include the Backfire, the United States claims the plane is really intercontinental because it can reach the American mainland and return if refueled.

The Russians counter that the Backfire is really an intermediate-range bomber, and, like the F111, should be excluded from the Vladivostok formula.

American intelligence experts are divided over the objectives the Russians have set for their new plane, with some analysts saying Moscow intends to use it on the Russian periphery.

Other U.S. experts deny that, although so far the Russians have deployed about 25 Backfires in the western Soviet Union and Black Sea area.

Older than we thought

Again and again the Leakeys' pioneering work in East Africa has pushed back the beginning of the vast time span during which the genus Homo is known to have walked the Earth. The latest find announced by Dr. Mary Leakey extends that span from 3 million to somewhere between 3.35 and 3.75 million years.

The historic record of mankind dates back only some 10,000 years. In this perspective it may seem of relatively small consequence whether the progenitors of modern man have been around for three million years or a few hundred thousand more than that.

The discovery of by Mrs. Leakey and her son Richard, who have carried on this distinguished scientific family's search for earliest man since the death of Louis Leakey in 1972, is nevertheless an exciting one. It strengthens the view that true man - the genus Homo - did not descend from the genus Australopithecus as was once generally thought. It is now increasingly believed that the two developed independently and coexisted for perhaps a couple of million years, with Australopithecus at last dying out for reasons unknown.

The Leakeys' most recent find deepens one great mystery about mankind. To put it rather flippantly: What took so long? That is, if creatures basically human have indeed existed for millions of years, why was it not until a few thousand years ago that civilization began to develop?

There is another facet of this question: What conditions suddenly gave rise to generative changes which, in only a tiny fraction of the human experience, have led to such a proliferation of art and technology and institutions? The fossilized teeth and jawbones of "people" who lived perhaps as long as three and three-quarter million years ago in what is now Tanzania shed no fresh light on such questions. They only make the answers more tantalizingly elusive.

A WORD EDGEWISE.... By John P. Roche

A footnote on Arab generosity

When in 1973 the Arab oil embargo was clamped on, it created a near panic in Western Europe and a full-fledged one in Japan. However, the oil-producing states were good enough to lift it at an astronomical level of price increase. This made it possible for the advanced industrialized states to resume their consumption, but it was a devastating blow to the economies of the less-developed nations. The latter were reassured by vague promises that the Third World would be given a special break. With characteristic pessimism, I noted here at the time that they should not stand on one foot waiting for Santa Claus.

Alas for the people of these poor nations, my hunch was correct. The World Bank indicates that the price increase has added $8.5 billion to the liability side of the ledger for the emerging nations and knocked their projected economic growth rate from 4.5 per cent annually (1973) to 1 per cent in 1975. It has been the hope of Arab alms that led to the massive anti-Israeli votes in every available form from the United Nations down. But a number of African states finally seem to realize they have been played for suckers, which could lead to a somewhat different voting alignment in the future.

Well, the Arab oil cartel's 1975 take of $110 billion did not go to charity. Where did it go? Into arms purchases, domestic development and foreign investment. Not in Uganda, of course, but in the United States, Britain and the other "good risk" nations. About $4 billion came to the United States in the first six months of 1975 from the Persian Gulf states for arms, and next year we plan to sell $3.7 billion in advanced military hardware to Kuwait alone!

Official estimates for 1974 indicate the OPEC nations invested $11 billion in the United States. Needless to say, these investments are managed with great care. $6 billion went, presumably as a token of esteem for the stability of our regime, into government securities and another $4 billion into savings accounts and bills of credit.

Now let me make it clear that I do not expect Arab capitalists to be any more benevolent than their Western counterparts. What surprises me is that others - particularly the less-developed nations who meretriciously joined the anti-Israel frenzy - assumed that these bournosed devotees of Adam Smith would be the poor world's almoners. The Africans in particular might have gotten wisdom from a reading of their fellow African St. Augustine's analysis of human character.

But there is one area in which it seems to me the Arabs have demonstrated more than usual capitalist malevolence, namely, in their contributions to the United Nations Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA) which is responsible for handling the problems of Palestinian refugees. Yasir Arafat of the Palestine Liberation Front received a roaring Arab welcome when he crashed the United Nations, but his constituents in the various UNRWA settlements have received only crumbs from their brothers. Israel, for example, contributed more ($1,138,000) than EVERY Arab state except Saudi Arabia!

Kuwait - while shooting its $3 billion for American arms purchases - came across with $400,000 for UNRWA. The brothers-in-arms of the "Palestinian people" - Egypt and Syria - came up with a combined $117,000. The Persian Gulf states, also busy buying expensive military stuff, were a bit more generous: $360,000 was pledged by the United Arab Emirates, Oman and Qatar. Saudi Arabia, which has raised the price of oil from $1 per barrel in 1970 to $12 in 1975, was the most generous. It promised the magnificent sum of $11.2 million. The United States, which has been paying the $12 per barrel has made a $42 million commitment; militant Libya, $600,000.

The figures may get boring, but to wind it up what you have is a situation where the rich Arab states have flatly refused to put their money where their mouth is, once again demonstrating that poor Palestinian refugees are pawns in the game, meriting only crocodile tears.

Finally, comrades, it goes without saying that the Soviet Union, that great defender of the oppressed everywhere, has not promised a ruble. Without intending to sound mean, before I'll listen to another heartbreaking plea on behalf of the Palestinians, a lot of Arab players have got to fork up the ante. They have to earn the right to give us instructions in morality.

Heidelberg celebrates

TIFFIN, Ohio (AP) - Heidelberg College will celebrate its 125th anniversary today, rededicating the original Founder's Hall, and dedicating the school's newest building, The Gundlach Theater.

Founder's Hall will contain support facilities for the new theater and classrooms, workshops and speech and hearing rooms.

Both buildings are part of a $750,000 project started in spring 1974. The liberal arts college, now with 1,050 students, held its first class with five students in three rented rooms in a commercial building in downtown Tiffin on Nov. 11, 1850.

Ohio Perspective

State helps cancer probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Ohio's Health Department is cooperating with willing industry in the state for investigations to try to learn more about the extent to which polyvinyl chloride (PVC) gas might pose a cancer threat.

Dr. George Shadle, chief of the department's occupational health division, was asked about the problem following the death in Elyria on Nov. 2 of Charles E. Arthur, 47, of a rare malignant liver tumor diagnosed as angiosarcoma.

The victim had worked for about 11 years with PVC, and for 21 years had been an employee of the B.F. Goodrich Co. plant at Avon Lake. A Goodrich spokesman said the same kind of cancer has been diagnosed in a living employee at its Louisville, Ky., plant where eight deaths from the disease were disclosed in January, 1974.

Shadle said health department engineers already are visiting plants in northwestern and central Ohio which use or handle polyvinyl chloride or vinyl chloride, measuring levels, checking storage facilities, and recommending corrections. It is being done on a voluntary basis, the state health official said, to aid industries in their effort to comply with court decisions as to use and storage of PVC.

Vinyl chloride is a colorless gas which is the basic ingredient of the widely used plastic, PVC. The National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health in Cincinnati said about 45 cases of the liver cancer have been found in PVC workers around the world.

The Elyria death is the first known fatality in Ohio.

Shadle, who formerly was associated with Park Davis Laboratories, stressed that while there may be a "link" between PVC and angiosarcoma, "the cause and effect has not been established."

He said his agency began studying the problem three or four months ago and there is no real cause for alarm. "We've been riding this thing hard," he said.

The engineers' investigations in the Toledo and Columbus areas were started more than six weeks ago, and are to get under way in northeast, southwest, and southeast Ohio "within the next month," Shadle said.

The department spokesman said he had "no knowledge of and haven't seen" a report last month in a national magazine (Time) saying Ohio health department officials had found women in three communities with PVC plants—Painesville, Ashtabula, and Avon Lake—bore "more children with birth defects and other malformations than women in other communities in the state."

"I haven't heard about it and I'm sure I would have if such a study had been made by our department," he said.

Col. Ebenezer Sproat, 6-foot-4 in height, commanded troops at Marietta in the ceremonies marking establishment of the Northwest Territory government. Indians who watched called Sproat the "tall Buckeye" because of his stature, and that name was soon applied to all Ohioans.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Take a back seat while in-law's with the driver

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem with my mother-in-law. She and my husband believe that it is a matter of "respect" to let her sit in the front next to her son when we're in the car together. Of course that means I have to sit in the back.

I have tried to tell my husband that this has nothing to do with respect and that I should sit next to him. It burns me up, and they both know it.

His mother is 47 and has no disabilities, so there is no good reason for her to sit next to my husband.

I always thought once that you married, your spouse becomes the most important person in your life and his family comes next.

It's gotten to the point where if his mother is going along, I just refuse to go. She doesn't drive and won't learn, so you can see that this poses a big problem.

There is no use talking to her because she already knows how I feel. She just thinks I should show her respect and get in the back.

What do you think is the respectable and proper thing to do?

MISERABLE IN BACK
DEAR MISERABLE: When push comes to shove, you should defer to her, not because your husband wants you to, but because she is your elder. Even though she should not have demanded to sit next to her son, since she did, you should have yielded gracefully. Refusing to go along is childish. Knock it off.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 72-year-old widow. I am very active, and believe me, I have all my buttons. My single daughter, Donna, and I live together.

I like people, but my oldest daughter who is married and lives happily with her husband told me that when Donna has company, I should excuse myself and give Donna and her guest privacy. This house is half mine.

Abby, when people reach a certain age, don't they belong to the human race any longer?

WITHHOLD MY NAME
DEAR WITHHOLD: The issue is not age's privacy.

You need not disappear the moment Donna has company and remain out of sight until the guest leaves, but neither should you join the party the whole time.

Use some judgement, Mother. Your older daughter has a point.

DEAR ABBY: My 14-year-old daughter recently spent a month with her father in Colorado. He and I have been divorced since she was 6-years-old.

She closed a recent letter to me with the following words:

"When I was born it was a wonderful thing because I grew up and you were there. I just want you to know that I couldn't ask for a better friend than you, Mommy. I love you!"

Abby, I am a witness to the fact that all children who grow up with only one parent do not go bad.

I would like to tell mothers all over the world that if they treat their children with respect and love, they will almost always make you proud of them.

YOUNG BLACK MOM
DEAR MOM: Thank you for a beautiful letter. It made my day.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Tuesday, Nov. 11, the 315th day of 1975. There are 50 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1918, World War I ended with the signing of an armistice in Marshal Foch's railway car in the forest of Compiègne, France.

On this date:
In 1620, the Pilgrims signed a compact aboard the Mayflower while anchored off Cape Cod.

In 1851, the first patent for a telescope was issued to Alvin Clark of Cambridge, Mass.

In 1889, Washington was admitted to the Union as the 42nd state.

In 1921, the Wash. Disarmament Conference convened.

In 1933, the first of the great dust storms of the 1930's swept across North Dakota.

In 1942, in World War II, the Germans occupied all of France.

Ten years ago: The white government of Rhodesia declared its independence from Britain, and London denounced the unilateral move as rebellion and treason.

Five years ago: General Motors and the United Auto Workers Union reached tentative agreement on a new three-year contract, raising hope that the end of a long strike was near.

One year ago: The United Nations was under tight security as representatives of the Palestinian Liberation Movement flew to New York to argue their case before the U.N.

Today's birthdays: Former First Lady Mamie Eisenhower is 79 years old. Comedian Jonathan Winters is 50. Thought for today: Delays have dangerous ends. — William Shakespeare, 1564-1616.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, Conn. assured the Continental Congress that although the state had legal rights to certain disputed lands in Penn., it desired only a peaceful, equitable solution of the controversy.

Dear Club Chairmen,

What non-profit organization isn't looking for a source of money to finance its programs and activities. Fund raising today can be a big problem for any group large or small. That is why, we at Hidy Foods are offering a new service to local church groups, schools, Boy Scout and Girl Scout Troups, civic organizations, service clubs and other non-profit groups. Our "1-RTR", short for 1% Register Tape Redemption, is easy to work, simple to run and profitable for your groups.

With only three easy rules, it's bound to be a winner. First, your club or organization secretary must come into Hidy Foods and register. Then start saving those cash register tapes each time you shop at Hidy Foods. After your club has accumulated register tapes with a redemption value of $10.00 or more, the secretary can bring them into Hidy Foods for redemption. Upon confirmation of redemption value, a check for the total amount will be made out in the club's name.

Start today to save the Hidy Foods register tapes and support the non-profit organization of your choice. It's an easy and simple fund raising plan to take advantage of. Just three rules to follow:

1. Only local non-profit groups, clubs and organizations may participate.
2. The group's secretary must register the club's name at Hidy Foods.
3. Register tapes turned in for redemption must exceed a minimum of $10.00 in redemption value. Check will be made out in the club's name.

The remarkable combination of premium quality, wide variety, customer service and low, low, low price is the idea behind Hidy Foods. And now with 1% Register Tape Redemption. Come, see and try our way...you'll like it!

Sincerely yours,

B'burg Lioness Club meets

Lioness Club members of Bloomingburg met in the Bloomingburg Church and favors of turkeys made from pine cones and felt marked each place setting. Other fall decorations completed the setting. Purple and gold are the organization's colors, and the aster is their flower.

The salute to the American flag was given and the constitution and by-laws were approved.

Two guests, Ms. Rachel Smith and Mrs. Mary Grim, were welcomed, and games were enjoyed during the evening. Winners were Mrs. Rex Bloomer, Mrs. Don Miller, Mrs. Charles Cunningham, Mrs. J. W. Sears and Mrs. Edgar McFadden.

Those present were Mrs. Alvin Armintrout, Mrs. Bloomer, Mrs. Donald Denen, Mrs. Gary Matthews, Mrs. McFadden, Mrs. John Cannon, Mrs. Willard Bitzer, Mrs. Clyde Cramer, Mrs. Dale Horney, Mrs. Arthur Schaefer, Mrs. Roger Rapp, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Jess Schlichter;

Also Mrs. Jack Sollars, Mrs. Carl Wilt Sr. Mrs. Alvin Writsel, Mrs. James Greene, Mrs. Norman Schiering, Mrs. G. H. Biddle, Mrs. Mary Foster, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Dave Krupla, Mrs. Jerry Wilt, Mrs. Sears, Mrs. Robert Mace and Mrs. Cunningham.

ESA dance scheduled May 8

Beta Omega Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, met in the home of Mrs. Wayne Clark. Vice president Mrs. Ralph Leeds conducted the business meeting and Mrs. Clark led the opening Ritual.

The chapter voted on a money-making project for December, and Mrs. Charles Winkle reported on the spring dance which is scheduled for May 8 in Mahan Hall. Committees were assigned, and the theme of the dance will be "Liberty Celebration." Proceeds will be used for a service project.

Plans for the Christmas party were discussed.

Rehearsals set

In addition to the four regularly scheduled Monday evening rehearsals for the December 7 presentation of Handel's "Messiah," four additional dates are scheduled.

Choral Society members may meet with organ, piano and chamber orchestra accompanists on Sundays, Nov. 16, 23, and 30 at 3 p.m. in First Presbyterian Church. The final rehearsal is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Saturday December 6 in Grace United Methodist Church. The place and hour of each rehearsal may be subject to change and performers will be notified.

Mrs. Brookover club hostess

Mrs. Ernest Brookover entertained the Stitch and Chatter Kensington Club at her home Monday afternoon. A variety of different pieces of needle work was in evidence.

Following the pleasant afternoon, Mrs. Brookover served the popular pumpkin pie dessert. Those sharing in the day were Mrs. Ralph Hays, Mrs. Thomas Willis, Miss Norma Dodd, Mrs. Claude Davis, Mrs. John Case, Mrs. Joseph O'Brien, Mrs. J.G. Jordan, and Mrs. Ralph Minton was a guest for the afternoon.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Willis.

Girl Scouts to sell GS calendars

The popular Girl Scout calendar sale is being held this year beginning Friday, Nov. 14 through Dec. 1. Girl Scouts from the Seal of Ohio Council will be calling door to door in a 16-county area to sell the 1976 calendars. The price is $1 again this year, and they are of a Bicentennial theme. Junior Scouts and Cadette Scouts from the local area will be selling the calendars in Washington C.H. and the county.

Girls use the proceeds from the sale to assist with expenses for troop camping and the annual camp-in at COSI.

If a Girl Scout does not call at your home, you may order a calendar by calling 335-6268 or 437-7212.

Model railroad show planned

The Model Railroad Show at Kingwood Center will provide fun for the entire family. The show, sponsored by the Travel 'n Trainmen of North Central Ohio, will be open to the public Saturday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. November 15, and on Sunday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. November 16, in the Kingwood Meeting Hall. Admission is free.

The show will feature all the popular size model trains, including "O" gauge, "HO" and the "N" or pocket size gauge. Various phases of construction including scenery, wiring, and operation will be displayed. The show will contain mobile as well as static model displays of both the new and old trains in all the popular sizes.

Come and get some ideas for your own home displays. Members of the Travel 'n Trainmen will be on hand to answer questions on all phases of display set ups, which will make the show educational as well as entertaining.

The Meeting Hall is located across from the Kingwood Greenhouses which will be featuring a colorful show of chrysanthemums and many other interesting plants. Kingwood Center is located in the western section of the city of Mansfield, Ohio. It can be easily reached from the north and south by I-71, and from the east and west by U.S. 30 and from the Ohio Turnpike by Route 13.

Bridge winners

'Open house' is planned for golden anniversary

An "open house" in the Atlanta Methodist Church will be the setting for the observance of the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Donohoe, Sunday, Nov. 23, from 3 to 5 p.m.

Mr. Donohoe and the former Zelma Bryant were married Nov. 28, 1925, in Newport, Ky. Mr. Donohoe is a retired farmer and truck driver, and they have two sons, Gene R. Donohoe of Washington C.H. and Paul R. Donohoe of Atlanta, and two daughters, Mrs. Bernard (Portia) Keaton of Atlanta and Mrs. Norman (Janis) Mouser of Mount Sterling. They also have eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Hays hostess to Home Builders

The Home Builders Class of the Madison Mills United Methodist Church met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hays. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ethel Wilson preceding the meeting to 18 members and one guest, who were seated at tables. The Rev. Mr. Harold Messmer gave the invocation.

Mrs. Lester Hanes, president, opened the meeting with a Thanksgiving poem, "The Bill of Fare." Mrs. Messmer presented devotions which consisted of the readings, "Little Things," and "A Thought for Everyday Living." Rev. Mr. Messmer read Psalm 92 and closed with prayer.

Mrs. Hanes conducted the business meeting when a report of the nominating committee was given by Mrs. Carl Benner. New officers for the year are: President - Mrs. Hanes; vice president - Mrs. Glenn Hidy; secretary - Mrs. Leland Dorn; and treasurer - Mrs. Frank Barrett.

It was announced that Dec. 14 will be the Christmas meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, when a potluck supper is planned for 6 p.m. There will also be a gift exchange.

Cheer cards were signed for Mrs. Grace Allemand and Mrs. Blodwen Melvin. Mrs. Benner read the poem, "Thanksgiving," by the late Mr. Frank Grubbs, and Mrs. Hays conducted an oral quiz.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Dorn, Mr. and Mrs. Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell, the Rev. and Mrs. Harold J. Messmer, Mr. and Mrs. Benner, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight King, Mr. Glenn Hidy, Mrs. Ethel Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Hanes, and the hosts, and one guest, Miss Helen Crow.

Wedding announced

Mrs. Shirley Wisecup and Mr. David Morrow exchanged marriage vows at 7:30 p.m. Monday in St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. The Rev. Dr. Leroy Davis officiated. Attendants were members of their families.

The new Mrs. Morrow is dietitian at Fayette Memorial Hospital, and her husband is co-owner of the Morrow-Huffman Funeral Home, Washington C.H. and Jeffersonville.

La Leche League to meet Wednesday

La Leche League of Washington C.H. will meet Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Lynn Shoemaker, 1224 Cornell Dr. The discussion, which begins at 8 p.m., will center on the art of breast feeding and overcoming difficulties.

All interested women are cordially invited to attend. Babies are always welcome at meetings. For more information call 948-2405.

Charges of operating a vehicle while under court suspension were dropped by Judge Simpson against Gary L. Leisure, 18, of 240 Curtis St.

Leisure had been arrested by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department Nov. 6 after being involved in an accident with a parked car and charged with the above charge plus driving while intoxicated and resisting arrest. Judge Simpson sentenced Leisure to serve five days in jail and fined him $50 and court costs for no operator's license unless Leisure could prove he had one, which he did. He still was fined $150 and court costs, given 10 days in jail and had his license suspended for 30 days on the drunk driving charge and was fined $150 and court costs and sentenced to serve 10 days in jail with five days suspended for resisting arrest.

Three non-traffic cases heard in court session

Cases involving petty theft, assault and disorderly conduct were heard by acting Washington C.H. Municipal Court Judge Robert L. Simpson Monday afternoon.

Donald E. Cooper, 28, of 1129 Willard St., was charged with petty theft by Washington C.H. police officers when he failed to pay for $10 worth of gasoline at the Bonded service station, N. North and E. Market streets, Nov. 7 after the attendant told Cooper he was not allowed to accept checks. The case was dismissed at the request of the prosecuting witness after Cooper made restitution and agreed to pay court costs amounting to $11.05.

Doug Hopkins, 18, Peebles, was charged with two counts of assault Nov. 4 by the Fayette County Sheriff's Department. He was found guilty of assaulting Dale Arnott and Roger Puckett by Judge Simpson and sentenced to serve 10 days in jail and pay court costs, plus stay away from alcoholic beverages and fighting for one year on one assault charge and additionally fined $25 and court costs on the second assault charge.

Jo Alice Stroup, 30, Derby, was fined $10 and court costs by Judge Simpson after being found guilty of disorderly conduct Monday at Fayette Memorial Hospital. She was accredited one day served in jail.

Schlesinger wins Pentagon applause

WASHINGTON (AP) — James R. Schlesinger, fired last week by President Ford as defense secretary, got a round of applause from 4,000 people who worked under him as he left the Pentagon for the last time.

Schlesinger reviewed a military honor guard Monday and was honored with the applause of the military officers, civilian officials and other Defense Department workers at the ceremony.

In taking his leave, Schlesinger reaffirmed his belief in U.S. military strength as the underpinning of American foreign policy.

"Only the United States can serve as a counterweight to the power of the Soviet Union," he said in a speech on the lawn in front of the Pentagon. "There is no one else waiting in the wings."

At Kiwanis Club meeting

Hunting pros, cons explained in movie

The pros and cons of wildlife hunting were pointed out in a film presented at the regular weekly dinner meeting of the Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club Monday night in the Terrace Lounge.

The film entitled "A Question of Hunting" was presented by Fayette County game protector Jerry Cremeans.

Through a series of interviews the movie pointed out that some people have strong points favoring hunting and others want hunting prohibited entirely. Some believe that hunting is part of the nation's heritage — food, sport, survival and protection.

The settling of the nation hurt wildlife, especially big game, by destroying natural habitat and many years ago hunters killed every animal they encountered. Wildlife refuges and more stringent hunting regulations have helped to replenish and restore wildlife.

President Theodore Roosevelt was a leader in this area and the establishment of the Elkhorn Ranch in the Badlands of North Dakota. Through the Pitman-Robinson Act, $2 billion received from taxes on hunting supplies helped in the re-establishment of certain types of wildlife.

The movie pointed out that out of an estimated 20 million hunters there are bound to be some that will not follow the accepted procedures and regulations of hunting. There are stiff penalties for those who violate hunting laws. There are thousands of sportsmen who abide by the regulations.

Several examples of replenishment and restoration of wildlife were shown in the film and trained professionals work with wildlife to insure an abundance. One interesting example was a pheasant farm in Massachusetts where the pheasants are raised from eggs. However, the movie pointed out that simply protecting the wildlife species is not sufficient and that habitat restoration is the key.

In a question and answer period, Cremeans stated there are a number of reasons for fewer pheasants in Fayette County. They were a lack of feed, plowing and planting of crops closer to fences, the use of pesticides and early winter plowing.

The meeting was conducted by club president Duane French. The speaker was introduced by Jerry Fraley. During the meeting, Ron Lott was presented a one-year attendance pin by Harold Heckaman.

Guests were Gary Foster and Greg Kuhlwein. Key Club members attending the meeting were Philip Swigert, Dave Ritenour and Dan LeBeau, all of Miami Trace High School.

Officers elected by association

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — New officers have been elected for the Ohio School Boards Association at a business meeting Monday.

Kenneth Gibon, who has been a board member at the Crestline Exempted Village School for 14 years, was elected president. He is the current first vice president of the OSBA and has been a member of the board of trustees.

William D. Case was named president-elect. He is current OSBA second vice president. Case has been a member of the Vandalia Butler City School Board for 16 years and current vice president of the Montgomery County Joint Vocational School Board.

Overtime pay decline reported

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Overtime payments for the first 18 weeks of the fiscal year were down by $992,173 compared to the average figure for the same period in the previous two years in the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Lower tax rate urged at Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Income Tax Director Samuel D. Purses has suggested lowering the tax rate in Canton for businesses as their payroll or property increases as an incentive to create more jobs.
Purses said the current system of increasing taxes as companies expand their business has a negative effect on the "economic lifeline of our community—jobs."
Purses said he has asked Treasurer Michael P. Gamble to recommend the tax reduction to Canton City Council.

WILMINGTON, OHIO

The Maximum Demand in any month shall not be less than the greater of (a) the Maximum Recorded Demand for the current month or (b) the minimum billing demand, if any, specified in the service contract or (c) 60% of the highest demand recorded in the last 11 months or (d) 90% of the highest demand recorded in the last 11 months during the summer period.

Seasonal Periods
The Winter period shall be the billing months of November through May and the Summer period shall be the billing months of June through October.

Primary Voltage Credits
(A) Delivery Voltage

The schedule of charges set forth in this tariff is based upon the delivery and measurement of transformed energy. When the measurement of energy is made at the primary voltage of the distribution line serving the consumer the kilowatt-hours as metered will be multiplied by .95.

(B) Equipment Supplied by Consumer
A discount of fifteen cents (15¢) per KW of demand will be applied to above demand charge when a consumer furnishes all transformation and service facilities necessary to provide for the utilization of Primary Voltage service delivered to the consumer's premises.

The minimum monthly charge shall be the applicable demand charge applied to the Maximum Demand.

Delayed Payment Charge
The above tariff is net if account is paid in full within 15 days of date of bill. On all accounts not so paid, an additional charge of five percent (5%) of the total amount billed, but not less than ten cents (10¢) will be made.

The General Service-Large-Transmission rate (Schedule G-4) has been modified and increased. The schedule has been changed to reflect "KVA" demands rather than "KW" demands.

Presently all General Service-Large-Transmission customers are served under Schedule G-4. In addition, the Company is collecting a 9% surcharge granted by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio on March 5, 1975.

SCHEDULE G-4 (Systemwide)

Maximum Capacity Demand Charge
First 500 kw. or less of Maximum Capacity	$750.00 per month
Next 500 kw. of Maximum Capacity	1.50 per kw. per month

PROPOSED RATE — SCHEDULE G-4 (Systemwide)

Per Month:		Winter	Summer
Demand Charge:		$685.00	$1,035.00
First 500 kva. or less		1.35	2.05 per kva.
Next 500 kva.		1.25	1.95 per kva.
Over 3000 kva.		1.20	1.85 per kva.

Energy Charge:		Winter	Summer
First 250 kw. per kva. of Maximum Demand, but not less than 100,000 kw., as follows:
First 50,000 kw.		2.50¢	2.80¢ per kw.
Next 50,000 kw.		2.20¢	2.50¢ per kw.
Over 100,000 kw.		1.95¢	2.25¢ per kw.
Next 200 kw. per kva. of Maximum Demand, but not less than 100,000 kw.		1.55¢	1.85¢ per kw.
Over 450 kw. per kva. of Maximum Demand, but not less than 200,000 kw.		1.35¢	1.65¢ per kw.

The minimum monthly charge shall be the applicable demand charge applied to the Maximum Demand.

The Maximum Demand in any month shall not be less than the greater of (a) the Maximum Recorded Demand for the current month or (b) the minimum billing demand, if any, specified in the service contract or (c) 60% of the highest demand recorded in the last 11 months or (d) 90% of the highest demand recorded in the last 11 months during the summer period.

Seasonal Periods
The Winter period shall be the billing months of November through May and the Summer period shall be the billing months of June through October.

Delayed Payment Charge
The above tariff is net if account is paid in full within 15 days of date of bill. On all accounts not so paid, an additional charge of five percent (5%) of the total amount billed, but not less than ten cents (10¢), will be made.

Special Provisions Applicable Under Specified Conditions To Specified Schedules (Supplement No. 14 — Sheets "A", "B", and "C"), applicable systemwide, have been changed. Rate Schedules no longer in existence have been deleted and modifications in schedule designations proposed in the General Service rates have been reflected. The minimum monthly charge under Breakdown Service has been increased from $1.65 to $2.25 per kilowatt of service requirement. The minimum monthly bill under the Electric Furnace Service has been increased from $1.00 to $1.50 per KW and the credit per month per KW of interruptible Maximum Capacity Demand increased from $0.40 to $0.50.

The Optional Unmetered Commercial Service Schedule For Small Fixed Loads (Supplement No. 16), applicable systemwide, has been altered by the inclusion of the standard fuel cost adjustment clause.

The Church and School Service-Optional rate (Supplement No. 18) has been altered by increasing the Minimum Charge for General Service-Small customers from $1.75 per month to $3.00 per month and from $5.00 per month to $10.00 per month for other General Service Schedules. Exemptions from the block extender have been eliminated and the provisions for combined billing shall conform to the applicable General Service Schedules.

The Interruptible Power rate (Schedule IP), applicable systemwide, has been increased from 1.51 cents per kw. to 1.55 cents per kw., the excess kilovolt-ampere demand charge increased from $0.25 to $0.35, and the following provision for delayed payment added: Delayed Payment Charge — The above tariff is net if account is paid in full within 15 days of date of bill. On all accounts not so paid, an additional charge of five percent (5%) of the total amount billed, but not less than ten cents (10¢), will be made.

The Private Area Lighting Service rates have been changed as follows: The AL-1 Schedule has been altered to reflect a 25¢ increase in the base rate of the 400 watt lamp and an increase of 25¢ for each additional pole and span of wire. The AL-2 Schedule has been altered to reflect a 25¢ increase per lamp. The standard fuel cost adjustment clause has been added to both schedules.

The Company is collecting a 9% surcharge granted by the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio on March 5, 1975 from customers served under Supplement No. 14 (Special Provisions Applicable Under Specified Conditions To Specified Schedules) or Supplement No. 16 (Optional Unmetered Commercial Service Schedule For Small Fixed Loads) or Supplement No. 18 (Church and School Service-Optional) or Schedule IP (Interruptible Power) or Schedules AL-1 or AL-2 (Private Area Lighting Service).

The Company's Applications further state that the rate of return on the value of the property affected by such Applications is presently inadequate and that the rates proposed will not produce more than a fair return on such property.

The Applicant prays that the Commission (1) find that the present rates, prices, charges and other provisions of the schedules affected by such Applications are unjust and unreasonable and insufficient to yield just compensation for the service rendered thereunder; and (2) find and determine that the rates, prices, charges and other provisions of the schedules tendered with such Applications for filing are just and reasonable, and approve such schedules in the form tendered with such Applications and make such schedules effective as soon as it is practicable to do so.

Pressure on AP poll champs

By GEORGE STRODE
AP Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mike Currence, the coach of Associated Press Class AAA state champion Lakewood St. Edward, downplays the pressure ahead for his unbeaten Eagles in the postseason high school football playoffs.

"Our kids are used to it. We were No. 1 in the Cleveland area all season. So everybody has been pointing at us," said Currence Monday night when told of his team's first AP regular season championship.

The coaches of the other AP title-winning schools, Bob Lewis of Class AA Cincinnati Wyoming and J.D. Graham of Class A Newark Catholic, see no major problem with heavy pressure in the playoffs either.

"Our kids are dedicated to making up for last year," said Lewis, whose Cowboys lost an undefeated 1974 season in the last game and an accompanying playoff berth.

"They've been loose all season. I don't think this will bother them," said Lewis, who has nine unbeaten seasons and a 170-18-6 record in 20 Wyoming seasons.

Graham, whose Newark Catholic team is in the state playoffs for the third straight season, acknowledged some pressure would ride with the No. 1 rating.

"But we want to make a good showing for ourselves and The AP," said Graham, his team the poll champion for the second time in three seasons.

St. Edward, which piled up 233 points to 199 for defending AP champion Cincinnati Moeller, faces third-rated Newark (10-0-0) in the Class AAA semifinals Saturday night in Akron's Rubber Bowl. Moeller (10-0-0) goes against No. 4 Findlay (10-0-0) in the other big school semifinal in Dayton.

Wyoming draws fifth-ranked Ironton (9-1-0) in Dayton's Welcome Stadium while No. 2 Cleveland Holy Name (8-0-0) takes on unheralded, 18th-rated Oregon Stritch (7-3-0) at Baldwin-Wallace Friday night.

Newark Catholic has the unenviable chore of playing defending champion Middletown Fenwick, seventh ranked and 7-3-0, in a Class A semifinal test

Friday night at Groveport High School. Third-ranked Burton Berkshire (9-0-0) battles No. 6 Carey (9-1-0) in the other A semifinal at Mansfield Senior High School.

Graham isn't take in by Fenwick's deceiving record. The Middletown school is the only team to make the playoffs all four years of their history.

"If Fenwick played a typical AA or A schedule, they would be undefeated," said the Newark Catholic coach. Fenwick's losses were to AAA foes Franklin, Lakota and Lebanon.

In the final AAA ratings, Canton McKinley was fifth, East Liverpool sixth, Kettering Alter seventh, North Canton Hoover eighth, Geneva ninth and Gahanna Lincoln 10th.

Cleveland Holy Name finished just one point behind Wyoming in AA, 188-187. Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary was third and then came London, Ironton, Circleville, Poland, Cleveland Benedictine, New Lexington and Wheelersburg.

Canal Winchester claimed second in Class A followed by Berkshire, Loudonville, New Philadelphia Tuscarawas Catholic, Carey, Fenwick, Ridgeway Ridgemont, Salineville Southern and Albany Alexander.

SEASON FINALE — A Miami Trace and Washington C.H. volleyball players go up for the ball in Monday's season ending match for both teams. The Court House girls took both the varsity and reserve matches by scores of 16-14, 15-7 and 15-8, 17-15 respectively. The varsity contest left Washington C.H. with a 4-2 leaguer record and Trace dropped to 1-5. (Jeff Henry Photo)

Linksters, volleyballers to be honored at banquet

The South Central Ohio League will hold its annual fall banquet Thursday night at Washington Senior High School.

The league grid champions, Miami Trace, will be honored along with the All-SCOL football team.

The league champions in both golf and volleyball will also receive SCOL trophies and the all-league team in each of these sports will be honored.

Greenfield McClain won the volleyball championship with a 5-1 record followed by Washington C.H. and Circleville with 4-2 league records. Madison Plains and Wilmington at 3-3 in the loop, and Miami Trace and Hillsboro with 1-5 marks.

Circleville and Wilmington shared the league golf championship with identical 10-2 records. Hillsboro and Greenfield placed second with 7-5 marks, Madison Plains followed with a 4-8 record and Washington C.H. and Unioto brought up the rear with 2-10 marks.

Bucks lose Sooners in poll

By The Associated Press

That Ohio State is still the No. 1 college football team in the nation isn't exactly a shocker. It's who's chasing the Buckeyes that makes the news.

It's not Oklahoma, that's for sure. Fate, hard luck, time ... call it what you wish ... finally caught up with the defending national champion Sooners last Saturday and dropped them from the runner-up role.

Now it's the Nebraska Cornhuskers who own second place. And what was a tight battle for first place in The Associated Press poll has become a comfortable cushion for Ohio State.

A week ago, Coach Woody Hayes' troops held a slender 49-point edge over Oklahoma in the balloting. Now, owning 49 of the 58 first-place votes cast by the nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters and a holding total of 1,138 points, the margin over Nebraska is a more secure 84 points.

OSU's 40-3 rout of Illinois helped — but more help came from Kansas' 23-3 upset of the Sooners. That dropped Oklahoma down from second to sixth place in the poll. And it enabled the Jayhawks to sneak into 17th place in the poll, the first time all season they've been in the Top Twenty.

Nebraska, which received eight first-place votes and 1,054 points, moved from third to second by virtue of its 12-0 whitewash of Kansas State. Texas A&M's Aggies, who received the other first-place vote, also moved up a notch to third with 875 points following a 36-3 romp over Southern Methodist.

Michigan's Wolverines, sixth a week ago, clawed their way into fourth by ripping Purdue 28-0 and, for their efforts, receiving 721 votes. Alabama's Crimson Tide had to struggle before downing Louisiana State 23-10 and stayed fifth in the balloting with 687 votes.

Oklahoma was next with 621, followed by Texas, remaining in seventh with 605; Arizona State up two places to eighth with 393; Notre Dame up three spots to ninth with 252, and Colorado up four notches to round up the Top Ten with 223.

Penn State fell out of the Top Ten, starting off the Second Ten with 214 points following its 15-14 upset loss to North Carolina State. Arizona's Wildcats knocked off San Diego State's previously unbeaten Aztecs and climbed from ninth to 13th with 206 points.

Southern California got a new head coach for next season in John Robinson. But the Trojans, with John McKay still at the helm, lost for the second straight week, falling to Stanford and falling from ninth to 13th with 186 points.

Rounding out the Top 20 were Florida, down from 11th 14th with 111 points; California, up from 18th to 15th with 107; Miami of Ohio up from 17th to 16th with 88; new-entry Kansas 17th with 56; Missouri up one spot to 18th with 53; UCLA, rejoining the Top Twenty in 19th with 50 points after a one-week absence from the poll, and Georgia, another first-timer this season with 47 points for 20th.

San Diego State, 13th a week ago, Maryland, 16th last week, and Pitt, 20th in the previous balloting, fell out of the Top Twenty.

Here are the Top Twenty teams in The Associated Press college football poll, with firstplace votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points based on 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8-7-6 etc.:

Fine lowered for Hawks

NEW YORK (AP) — It hasn't been the most successful year for the Hawks, but there was good news Monday.

The National Basketball Association's Board of Governors voted to reduce by $150,000 a fine levied against the Hawks for signing Julius Erving.

Atlanta signed the star forward three years ago, ignoring the fact that he was drafted by the Milwaukee Bucks. Erving played two exhibition games with the club in 1972 but eventually wound up with the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association.

Last June, the Board lowered the boom on the Hawks, ruling they had to pay the league $250,000 and the Bucks $150,000, in addition to surrendering their two second-round draft choices next year to Milwaukee. The Board also said that if Erving ever joins the NBA, he must go with Milwaukee.

Women's volleyball

The Wildcats and the Pro-Keds came away easy winners in the Monday night Community Education women's volleyball league action at the Washington Middle School.

The Wildcats topped the Jolly Volleys, 15-7, 15-7, and the Pro-Keds beat the Hiballers, 15-2, 15-12.

Chiefs beat Dallas in TV stumblethon

DALLAS (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs may not be Super Bowl material, as their rookie Coach Paul Wiggins claims, but they were All-National Football League in recovering fumbles Monday night.

Kansas City and Dallas fumbled 12 times in their nationally televised stumblethon. The Chiefs got back three

3-4 defense problem for Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Bengals Coach Paul Brown admitted that the new 3-4 defense being used against his team is causing some problems but he was still happy with the narrow 17-16 squeaker over the Broncos at Denver Sunday.

"We keep slipping by," said Brown, whose Bengals remained tied with Pittsburgh for the lead in the NFL American Conference Central Division with records of 7-1.

"It's like that old movie The Perils of Pauline," said the 66-year-old Brown, "We don't want it that way, but we're happy. It was a win."

Brown and his staff spent Monday reviewing the films in preparation for next Monday night's game here against the Buffalo Bills. The team was given the day off.

The staff also discussed the 3-4 defense used by the Broncos which uses only three charging linemen backed up by four linebackers.

"They had used it only on long yardage situations before," said Brown.

"We had not thought about it as a prime defense. But it's no big deal since we were sort of familiar with it. I think they went to it because of a dearth of down linemen and they made up their minds to give it a whirl."

Portion of project to open Nov. 30

Auxiliary hears report on hospital remodeling

A portion of the newly-constructed and remodeled areas of Fayette County Memorial Hospital will be opened on Nov. 30, it was learned at the regular meeting of the Fayette Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Monday.

Robert L. Kunz, hospital administrator, said that effective Nov. 30 the hospital laboratory will move into new quarters where technicians will have about $40,000 worth of new equipment which will add significantly to the service offered to patients.

On the same day, new rooms will be opened which, when the present construction project is complete, will give the hospital a total of 107 beds. Kunz told auxiliary members that the additional beds were needed and that, for example, the hospital had 92 per cent occupancy and recently some admissions have had to be postponed because of lack of beds for patients.

The remainder of the present construction should be completed by April 1, 1976. When completed, the hospital will have a seven-bed pediatrics area, two isolation rooms and a four-bed coronary care unit.

The emergency room, which has been staffed 24 hours a day since last January, will probably handle approximately 16,000 patients this area, according to Kunz, and the area is presently being remodeled to handle the patient load.

Kunz reminded the auxiliary members that the construction project is being financed from the Wilbur Welton fund. He added that the new rooms will be furnished from $18,000 recently bequeathed to the hospital.

The hospital administrator also said that plans are being made to establish a hospital development fund, a non-profit corporation to handle future gifts and bequests to the hospital.

Kunz expressed his appreciation to the auxiliary for their many hours of volunteer service and their gifts of equipment to the hospital. In answer to a question, he said that the auxiliary members will probably be asked to use more of their funds for surgical equipment, pediatrics, or respiratory therapy when the remodeling project has been completed.

During the organization's business meeting, auxiliary president Miss Marjorie Evans asked Mrs. Ralph Childs, chairman of a committee to consider constitution revisions, to report suggested changes which will be considered by members and voted on at the Feb. 9 meeting.

Mrs. Martha Reiff, chairman of the nominating committee, presented a slate of 10 nominees for the election of officers which will be held during the February meeting. The nominees presented were Miss Marjorie Evans, president; Mrs. Robert Woodmansee, president-elect; Mrs. Robert Heiny, vice president; Miss Ruth Stecker, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Ellis, recording secretary; Mrs. Orville Jenkins, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Dee Foster, Mrs. L.W. Herbst, Mrs. McKinley Kirk and Mrs. Lawrence Moss, members of the board of directors.

Membership in the hospital auxiliary is open to all men and women in Fayette County who want to be of service to the hospital.

State gas order helps industries

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A state order permitting the flow of natural gas for at least another seven weeks has eased the threat of a shutdown for eight Ohio industries hit hard by unexpected sharp curtailments.

The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio granted "extraordinary relief" Monday to the companies, some of which faced 100 per cent curtailments from Columbia Gas of Ohio.

Firms with the capability to convert to alternate fuel had been scheduled for a 45 per cent cutback beginning Nov. 1. However, a PUCO modification in Columbia's curtailment plan forced the utility to raise levels for these companies to provide more fuel for others unable to convert.

PUCO said companies unable to convert and industries using natural gas for pilot lights or raw materials could not be cut more than 10 per cent. The sudden change in the plan brought cries of outrage from firms not yet prepared to switch from natural gas.

By midweek, PUCO relented and said industries could apply for emergency gas to allow a "lead time" for a switch to an alternate fuel, usually oil. The commissioners said such firms would be given an answer within 48 hours.

Granted relief based on applications received at the commission Friday were:

Mather Co., Metals Division, Toledo; F. H. Brewer, Lancaster; Kyova Pipe Co., Ironton; American Malleable, Marion; Huron Lime Co., Huron, and Davis Firebrick Co., Ohio Firebrick Co., and Cambria Clay Products, all Oak Hill.

Kyova, a division of Ashland Chemical Co., was the only firm reporting a shutdown. The Ohio Manufacturers Association has advised industries to continue operations pending PUCO decisions.

"Columbia will provide them (the listed companies) with enough additional natural gas to keep operating through Dec. 31," a spokesman for the commission said.

MORRISTOWN, N.J. (AP) — One legal battle has been lost, but Joseph Quinlan is thinking today about taking to a higher court his fight to let his daughter, Karen Anne, "pass into the hands of the Lord."

Karen, 21, slipped into a coma April 15 and has been sustained in a "persistent vegetative state" by a respirator ever since. On Monday a state judge ruled that the respirator must not be disconnected.

Superior Court Judge Robert Muir Jr. said in his decision, "There is no constitutional right to die that can be asserted by a parent for his incompetent adult child."

Muir said the court is empowered to protect Karen's interests and decided "the determination whether or not Karen Anne Quinlan be removed from the respirator is to be left to the treating physician. It is a medical decision, not a judicial one."

Karen's physicians opposed the family's request to unplug the respirator.

"Numb" and "surprised" were words used by Quinlan to describe his reaction to the judge's decision.

"We know what she would say if she were here right now," he said. "She'd say, 'Let's end all this. It's time for me to go home now to my Heavenly Father.'"

Quinlan said he was still weighing whether to appeal the decision to higher courts and had to consider his other two children.

Julia Quinlan, Karen's mother, said the legal proceedings were "something we felt we must do morally. We had already done everything medically and spiritually. So we had to take it to the courts."

"We'll still have the heartache and the anxiety," she said after Monday's ruling.

The Quinlans filed a petition in Judge Muir's court in September asking that Quinlan be appointed Karen's guardian and seeking the court's sanction for ordering her respirator disconnected.

In a 44-page decision, the judge said that Quinlan's attorney, Paul W. Armstrong, failed to prove that the court should order Dr. Robert Morse, Miss Quinlan's treating physician, to shut off the respirator.

They'll Do It Every Time

Speaking of Your Health...
Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Cause of Tingling Sensations

I have tingling sensations in the feet, especially in the morning. I also am bothered by muscle cramps during the night. Can these be related?

Mrs. S.Y., S.C.

Dear Mrs. Y.: Night-time cramps and persistent tingling of the feet may suggest some kind of impairment of circulation.

Sometimes there may be a reddish or bluish discoloration of the feet, especially in cold weather, associated with circulatory problems.

A general examination can rule out arteriosclerosis and Buerger's disease. The latter is a spasm of the arteries, most often due to tobacco.

There are now many highly detailed techniques by which blood circulation in both the arteries and the veins can be studied.

After such tests are made, almost always the exact cause can be pinpointed and, in many instances, treated with marked relief from these symptoms.

I have heard of heart failure, but what is kidney failure?

Mr. J.A., Ky.

Dear Mr. A.: The kidneys are two remarkable organs that act as filters. As blood passes through them, waste products and toxins are removed and excreted in the urine.

The delicate filtering mechanism does not remove healthy nutrients that circulate in the blood.

When kidneys are inflamed, infected or injured, they may fail to function normally. "Kidney failure," therefore, indicates this inability to excrete the poisonous substances that are harmful to the body.

The accumulation of these harmful products is known as "uremia." This dangerous buildup of poisons can now be effectively controlled by the dialysis machine.

Patients with kidney failure now, at repeated intervals, can have their blood cleansed of the substances whose build-up would otherwise threaten their lives.

Can the thighs be made thinner by surgery?

Miss G.H., Iowa

Dear Miss H.: Some plastic surgeons have been trying operations for this purpose. Before embarking on such a complicated procedure give a great deal of thought to the exact reasons that motivate you to try it. Discuss it in the most minute detail so that you will not pay an emotional penalty if the results do not live up to your expectations.

Opening lead - jack of hearts.

Many players imagine that executing a squeeze is something beyond their capabilities. But the truth is that most squeezes are easy enough to accomplish and, in fact, just about all that declarer has to do is cash his natural tricks and, presto, the squeeze materializes by itself.

Consider this deal where South, rightly or wrongly, finds himself in seven notrump. He wins the heart lead with the ace and notes that he has only twelve tricks - with apparently no chance of scoring a thirteenth trick.

But if South is at all familiar with squeezes, he also notes that he has all the tricks but one - and it is this expression "all the tricks but one" that triggers the thought in his mind that trick number thirteen may come from a squeeze.

Actually, South winds up making the grand slam by normal play - even if he doesn't know the difference between a squeeze and a Wiener schnitzel.

He wins the heart lead with the ace, cashes four spades and three diamonds, and poor West finds it impossible to make a suitable discard on the last diamond trick from a holding of the 10-9-7 of hearts and Q-10-6 of clubs. A heart discard hands South an extra heart trick, while a club discard hands dummy an extra club trick.

The squeeze succeeds whether or not South is aware of the squeeze possibilities. If he is squeeze-conscious, he hopes the defender who was dealt most of the missing hearts also has most of the missing clubs. If South is not squeeze-conscious, the good Lord takes care of him anyhow!

See active role for Betty Ford

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's political advisers are about to suggest a bigger 1976 campaign role for Betty Ford than originally had been anticipated.

The First Lady, whose outspoken comments originally were viewed with trepidation even by the President, is now proving to be a heroine in the public opinion polls.

One of the President's top-ranking White House aides confides that "from the polls we've seen, the conclusion is that Betty and the kids are a distinct plus for the President."

It also was learned that officials of the Ford campaign committee, after doing some of their own polling, expect to bring up with the President the possibility that Mrs. Ford should take an active part in the campaign.

That decision was disclosed after the latest Harris poll reported Monday that Mrs. Ford is winning overwhelming approval for her outspoken comments over the last year on women's rights and the way she would handle the situation if her daughter, Susan, were having a love affair.

The Harris poll came to the conclusion that Mrs. Ford "is supported most by those segments of the public who are least likely to back her husband in the 1976 election," including the "younger and independent elements in the electorate."

The Harris organization said a survey of 1,519 adults nationwide showed that a 60 to 27 per cent majority agreed with Mrs. Ford when she said she "would not be surprised if her daughter had an affair."

A 64 to 23 per cent majority supported Mrs. Ford's statement that if her daughter were having an affair, "she would want to know if the young man were nice or not."

The Harris organization said Mrs. Ford has become one of the most popular of the presidents' wives.

President Ford himself has revised his estimate of his wife's impact. He announced jokingly after her August television interview comments on premarital sex that he figured she had lost him 20 million votes.

But now he tells applauding GOP audiences that his wife is doing better than he is in the polls.

Mrs. Ford told reporters recently that she has no intention of campaigning on her own or speaking out on political issues. However, she said she still intends to press for passage of the Equal Rights Amendment and increasing the number of women in top policy jobs in government.

She said she viewed her campaign role as just traveling with her husband as often as she could.

Couple charged in kidnap-slaying

MILTON, Fla. (AP) — A Midwest couple was charged with first-degree murder and kidnaping Monday in connection with the abduction and slaying of Alma Hartley of Pensacola.

Billy Lee Shephard, 26, of Warsaw, Ind., and Phyllis Louis James, 24, of Marion, Ohio, were moved from Tampa to the Santa Rosa County Jail and held without bond, Florida authorities said.

The pair was arrested on federal charges of conspiracy to kidnap shortly before the body was found Nov. 5.

Two Mississippi men were charged earlier in the case.

Have you seen any of Tim Carson's Cibachrome color prints? There are several guys in town making beautiful color enlargements by the CIBACHROME route, but the best we've seen so far are Tim's. Tim works well in black-and-white too.

If you haven't tried this CIBACHROME color print stuff yet it's high time you got into the fun. There are only three chemicals involved, and the process takes only 12 minutes. Easy? I bet even Osgood could get good prints with CIBACHROME. And speaking of Osgood, someone came up with the bright idea of running Osgood for mayor of our fair city. Since we have a photographer as mayor of New Holland, the pattern is set. Ed in New Holland, Osgood in Washington - really there are more photographers than cities so we'll have to find other offices for the rest. If you have any ideas on what to do with the extra photographers let me know.

Last week we mentioned the splendid book written by our local boy, Harry M. Daugherty. Daugherty's book, THE INSIDE STORY OF THE HARDING TRAGEDY, is one of the best books we've read. Our first shipment is going fast but there are more on order, so if we're out when you come in, drop back; there'll be more in a few days.

Residential burglary checked by deputies

A Jamestown area man's home was burglarized and his pickup stolen sometime between 8:30 p.m. Sunday and 1 a.m. Monday, the Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported today.

A .22 caliber pistol valued at $25 and a hatchet was taken from the Bruce I. Garringer residence at 8980 Garringer-Edgfield Road. The hatchet was used to chop a hole in a 300-gallon gasoline tank on the property in order to put gas in Garringer's pickup truck which was unlocked with the keys in it. Deputies reported a loss of 200 gallons of gas in the theft attempt. The 1953 model International truck valued at $300 contained head phones, an AM-FM radio, a log chain and a tarpaulin. Sheriff's deputies are continuing the investigation.

Sheriff's deputies reported a second theft involving personal property and the Washington C.H. Police Department filed two reports today which deal with larceny.

A tool box and socket set were stolen from a van belonging to Wayne A. Downing, 727 Lesley Court, sometime between 12 a.m. and 4:30 a.m. Monday, sheriff's deputies reported. The rear doors of the van were left open by the thieves.

A citizens band radio valued at $150 was stolen from a truck belonging to Charles M. Fuels, 611 S. North St., sometime between 4 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. Monday. Police stated the vehicle had been parked at the rear of the Fultz residence at the time of the theft.

A 10-speed, boys white bicycle valued at $100 was stolen from the garage at the Becky Jo Dixon residence, 716 Columbus Ave., sometime last week. City police reported discovery of the theft made Friday and are investigating.

Students assigned to vo-ed districts

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio high school students without access to vocational education courses have been assigned to two joint vocational educational centers by the state Board of Education.

Six Fairfield County local school districts were assigned to the Tri-County Joint Vocational School District. Fairfield County voters last week turned down a combination building and operating levy which would have provided the funds for a joint vocational school.

The Liberty-Benton Local School District in Hancock County was assigned to the Penta County Joint Vocational School District.

In other action at its meeting Monday, the state board established an Ohio Assessment and Annual Progress Committee to assist with the development of standards for yearly progress reports for individual schools and districts.

Membership on the committee is expected to include representatives from the education profession, local boards of education, the state board and citizens, the board said. Legislative leaders will appoint four lawmakers to the committee, the board said.

Hunter safety course attracts 30 persons

Thirty aspiring hunters from as far away as the Dayton area attended last Sunday's Ohio hunter safety course which was sponsored by the Fayette County Fish and Game Association at the organization's lodge on Stafford Road.

The comprehensive course included lecture materials, demonstrations of safe gun handling techniques and movies presented by Fayette County game protector Jerry Cremons with assistance from Phil French.

The six-hour course was concluded with a written examination for all students. Twenty-seven of the persons attending the course successfully completed the written examination and were awarded shoulder patches and special identification cards.

Fifteen-year-old Robert M. Tolle, 614 N. North St., turned in the only perfect score on the examination.

Officer slain; 3 arrested

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bedford Heights police say Sgt. William Prochazka was working on an investigation of a previous holdup at a wallpaper and paint store when he surprised three holdup men at the same store Monday.

One of the trio shot and killed Prochazka, 38, before fleeing the store, police said.

About two hours later and several miles away, Cleveland police stopped a car fitting the description of the car used by the robbers and arrested three men for questioning.

Bedford Heights police gave this account of the slaying:

Prochazka and his partner, Detective James Toth, went to the Blonder's store to check out mug shots of men who may have tried to rob the store a month ago.

While Toth went to a neighboring store on a personal errand, Prochazka went into the wall covering store.

Seeing no one in the main part of the store, he went to a rear room and walked in on the three men holding 11 persons at gunpoint.

Police said one gunman fired, killing Prochazka.

The five employees and six customers who were in the store at the time said one of the robbers had a sawed-off shotgun and the others had revolvers. They said one of the robbers was trying to open a cash box when Prochazka entered.

President's aide to quit military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has advised Lt. Gen. Brent Scowcroft he should resign from the Air Force before becoming President Ford's special assistant for national security affairs.

William I. Greener Jr., a deputy White House press secretary, said Monday that Scowcroft had not been directed to resign.

Prayer breakfast draws 66 persons

Sixty-seven persons were present at the teen prayer breakfast held at the South Side Church of Christ Tuesday morning.

"What Faith Does" was the topic chosen by the Rev. Charles J. Richmond for the meditation period. The singing period was led by Linda Hollingsworth, Mick Hecker, and LuAnn Graham, all seniors at Washington Senior High School. Marcia Markel offered prayer for the food. She is also a senior at Washington Senior High School.

Following the breakfast, Mary Ann Rudduck, a 1975 graduate of Washington Senior High School, spoke to the group on "time." She emphasized the necessity of managing our time and urged each person to take time out for God. Jon Creamer, a teacher at Washington Senior High School, closed the session with prayer.

The next prayer breakfast will be Tuesday Nov. 18, at 6:45 a.m. All teens, grades nine through twelve, are welcome.

Temperatures dipped into the 30s or low 40s over most of Ohio during the night under clear skies. The coldest part of the state was in the southeast and east central, where readings were near the freezing level.

On the opposite side of the state, Dayton and Columbus had readings in the low 40s.

Monday's storm moved rapidly northeast. This morning, the center of low pressure was in the Hudson Bay area.

High pressure covered Ohio early this morning.

The early weather map showed another low over South Dakota with a cold front from the low to New Mexico. This system was to move east to the Mississippi Valley this evening. The low was to move across the northern Great Lakes tomorrow and the front will push east across Ohio.

Today will be mostly sunny with highs in the 50s, much closer to normal than the month so far. Clouds will spread into the state from the west late today and there is a chance of showers beginning tonight with the approach of the front.

Fair Thursday and Friday and a chance of showers Saturday. Highs in the 50s. Lows in the 30s.

Deer killed in accident

A deer was struck and killed by a car driven by James H. Lovett, 43, of 3322 Ohio 41, at 7:13 p.m. Sunday.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported Lovett was traveling south on Ohio 729, one-tenth of a mile south of the U.S. 35 intersection when a deer ran out in front of his auto. Lovett was not injured and his car was only slightly damaged.

The Philanthropist, first abolitionist newspaper in the United States, was published in Mount Pleasant, Ohio, 1817-1818.

High court gets Eloff press case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state Supreme Court was to hear arguments today on a writ filed by Dayton Newspapers, Inc., to open pretrial hearings in connection with the kidnap-slaying of Dayton businessman Lester Eloff.

Defense attorneys for Herman Lee Moore, one of the three defendants in the case, requested closed pretrial hearings based on the defendant's contention that prejudicial matters would be revealed in the hearings.

Montgomery County Common Pleas Court Judge Stanley S. Phillips closed courtroom doors to the public, agreeing with counsel's contention that further publicity could only jeopardize Moore's rights.

The Second District Court of Appeals upheld Phillips' order Friday.

Attorneys for the Dayton papers argued that the defendant and trial judge could move the trial to another county or sequester a jury during pretrial hearings rather than just closing the doors.
